

BLYTHE SEES HUGHES LEADING IN G.O.P. RACE

FAIRY POLITICAL WRITER SAYS CONTEST IN CHICAGO IS ONLY BEGINNING

Credits Old Guard With Playing Hughes and Roosevelt Against Each Other in Order to Clear the Field—Colonel Can Name the Candidate If He Is Satisfied With That Distinction—Over Enthusiastic Progressives May Spoil Whole Program.

(By Samuel G. Blythe)

Chicago, Ill., June 3.—Practically all the guard interests having arrived, to-wit: the advance guard, the old guard, the rear guard, and the mud guard, the day's exercises were appropriately opened by the old guards, quavering membership, who backed themselves against the walls of the Coliseum and chanted their hymn of hate, not without a certain note of finality and as follows: "Come T., Come R., this pile shall flee from its firm base as soon as we."

Wherefore the situation indicated continues to be news of importance, regardless of the exclamations, declamations, decimations and objurgations of the press agents, the press agented and the various and sundry other amateurs, professionals and gentlemen adventurers who have been making such welkin as Chicago provided for several days past.

Organized Against Roosevelt.

The first Roosevelt consideration is that this convention was organized specifically to prevent his nomination. The work was continued for some two years. The old guard devoted all their political energies to that. Their inside, and, as they think, absolute figures show that Roosevelt will have only eight delegates at the beginning and that of the remainder there are forty men who may swing to him. They say this is the total apparent Roosevelt strength. This is the club they hold over Roosevelt.

Conversely, the Colonel is a club himself and he has two clubs in hand. The first is the Progressive convention. The second is his sanction of a man other than himself as the Republican nominee.

The one great fact that all the favorite sons and their promoters and protagonists have overlooked since the ballyhoo began here is that this forthcoming Chicago convention was constructed for one principal purpose and one principal purpose alone, and that principal purpose is the utter refusal to Colonel Roosevelt of a nomination for president. This is a hand-picked, manicured, polished and air-tight convention and all the prognostications of the seers and all the beliefs of the seersuckers can make nothing more or less of it. Hence the problem is not what the convention can do, or will do, but what the men who built it can do with it. In other words, the machine has been carefully built, but the power has never been turned on.

Made Proposition to Teddy

They went to Roosevelt, the old guard did, innocently and ingeniously with their past in their hands and said: "Now, Teddy, let bygones be bygones. You know we can't nominate you this year. Mebby in 1920, but not this year, but we will feel kindly toward you and we put this proposition up to you, men to man. You name the name of the man you think we should nominate, and we'll nominate him, and then we'll all turn in and elect him. Come on, now, and be a good fellow, and meet us half-way. Pick the man. Anybody acceptable to you will be acceptable to us."

Whereupon the Colonel laughed a hoarse and raucous laugh. "No, sir," he replied, with great dental emphasis, "you astonish me by making such a proposition. No dicker, no bargains. Nothing of the kind. Good day."

Well—it was sort of simple in the old guard, to say the least, because they should have known two things. The first is that the colonel has no interest in any other person as a candidate than T. Roosevelt, and the second is that if he succeeded to this desire he at once placed himself in the power and at the mercy of the old guard by assenting to a program they had in mind and binding himself to it.

Thus we come to Hughes. As I have said, this is a professional convention, or will be made up of politicians. There is only one person in the United States the delegates, or the bulk of them, desire less to nominate than Roosevelt, or the leaders, and that person is Charles Evans Hughes. There is no professional political nourishment in Hughes. Still, back in the country there is a prevalent notion that Hughes is the man who can make the race tightest for President Wilson, and this has spread to a good many of the minor delegates who desire to be elected themselves and need the strongest man they can get at the top. Also, there are a number of states whose women vote for president, some eleven or twelve and these are states that are nominally Republican states. The women are generally against Roosevelt because the women are generally for peace, and they think that the Colonials

Roosevelt, instead of continuing decorously as the corpse in the Progressive coffin, emerged, to the intense dismay of the old guard, began to display disconcerting evidence of an extreme vitality, then, in order to make it still more certain for themselves, what had been a far cry for Mr. Justice Hughes was skilfully developed by the old guards into a near cry for him. It was simple politics, rudimentary all there was to it was to use Hughes to make sure that the mastringing the hand-picked convention was to give Roosevelt would be effectual and then, at leisure, and in a polite and gentlemanly manner, to add a Hughes homicide to the list of capital crimes needed in order to make sure that the people shall rule.

These three main aspects or factors—Roosevelt, Hughes, Favorite sons—comprise one colonel and two gubbins of the situation as this is

CHICAGO HOLDS GREAT PREPAREDNESS PARADE

MARCHERS ELEVEN AND ONE HALF HOURS IN PASSING GIVEN POINT

More Than Million Persons Watch 130,214 Marchers—Twelve Thousand March in Springfield—Autos Carry Civil War Veterans.

Chicago, June 3.—The greatest parade ever held in Chicago, ended tonight after 130,214 persons had filed thru the streets in a monster preparedness demonstration. The marchers were eleven and a half hours in passing a given point. More than one million persons are estimated to have witnessed the parade.

The night division was made up largely of military organizations which included all branches of the service. One-sixth of the marchers were women.

It was the greatest demonstration of the kind the ever saw, or as the former United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew of New York, who is here as a delegate to the Republican convention, said, one of the greatest in the world.

It was an unusually dignified parade. There never before has been in Chicago such a display of patriotic emblems.

At Roosevelt headquarters it was said that in order to make certain that none could claim the Roosevelt leaders were trying to make capital out of the parade, the committee had held back bill board advertising, 5,000 buttons, 25,000 preparedness banners and 10,000 lithographs which will be used for political purposes later.

The weather was perfect and only a few minor accidents occurred of a character common to crowds.

SPRINGFIELD HOLDS PARADE.

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—Twelve thousand persons, five thousand of whom were school children, marched in the preparedness parade here today. The only conveyances in line were automobiles which carried 141 veterans of the Civil war. Approximately one-fifth of the marchers were women.

Organized labor was not officially represented.

One of the novel elements in the parade was a delegation of one hundred men who came to this city from Elkhart, Illinois, dressed in overalls, straw hats and bandanas, headed by John G. Oglesby, former Lieutenant Governor of Illinois. On their banner was inscribed:

The farmers of Elkhart are for peace, but for a little war if necessary to insure peace."

Governor Dunne and United States Senator L. Y. Sherman were on the reviewing stand. With them were Secretary of State Lewis G. Stevenson, State Auditor James J. Brady, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blair, Col. George Morgan and Lieutenant Colonel Lewis of the United States army, Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson and other state officers.

Governor Dunne left immediately after the parade for Chicago.

RECOVER NINE BODIES FROM WRECKAGE NEAR GREENE, IA.

EIGHT ARE IDENTIFIED—FOUR ARE KNOWN TO BE MISSING.

Greene, Iowa, June 3.—Rescue work at the Packard wreck has resulted in the finding of nine bodies, eight of which have been identified. Four are known to be missing.

Those recovered are:

Mrs. W. T. Robinson, aged 46, Sterling, Ill.

FAST C. & E. I. TRAIN STRIKES AUTOMOBILE AND IS WRECKED

DANVILLE, Ill., June 3.—The northbound Florida-Chicago Limited, fastest and finest train on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, was wrecked this afternoon when it struck an automobile driven by Harper Daniels, a retired furniture dealer and undertaker of this city, at a crossing near Bismarck. The engine, baggage, and mail cars and two passenger coaches left the rails and tore up the track for several hundred yards, but the steel coaches prevented what probably otherwise would have been a terrible loss of life.

Daniels was killed and mangled in a horrible manner. Engineer Charles Tverhart and fireman Fred H. Kay, both of Danville, were severely scalded, and several passengers mostly residents of this city, were slightly injured.

HUGHES WILL LEAD ON FIRST BALLOT

Organization Leaders Estimate His Strength at 175 to 225

T. R.'S VOTE WILL GROW

Situation May Lead to Temporary Combination of Interests to Fight Hughes

EXPRESS HOPE OF AGREEMENT

CHICAGO, June 3.—Republican organization leaders admitted that Charles E. Hughes would get more votes on the first ballot for the presidential nomination than any of his competitors. They estimate his strength on the initial ballot at between 175 and 225.

Admit T. R. Will Grow.

The organization forces estimate Roosevelt's first ballot strength at less than 180 but admit that his vote will grow when the "favorite sons" begin to drop out of the race. This situation, it is said, may lead to a temporary combination of interests between the organization and friends of Roosevelt to fight Hughes in the early hours of voting in the convention.

What will happen after the first few ballots are taken and "favorite son" candidates are quitting the race nobody seems able to predict at this time. There are outward indications that the Roosevelt men and the organization Republican leaders are paving the way for possible harmony later by numerous talks of an informal character between representatives of each group.

While this is the case, both sides express the hope that some kind of an agreement may be reached.

Following is a statement of the number of votes claimed by the managers of the leading candidates on the first ballot:

Hughes 292

Weeks 269

Roosevelt 175

Burton 112

Cummins 106

Fairbanks 83

Root 75

Sherman 65

Knox 56

Brumbaugh 41

Ford 30

LaFollette 26

General Leonard Wood 15

Dupont 14

Borah 8

There was some talk today of a plan to adopt the party platform before nominating the candidate for president in the convention but this suggestion brought a vigorous protest from the friends of Hughes, who professed to see in the move a scheme to injure the chances of their candidate.

Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York issued the following statement:

"Mr. Root's name will be presented to the convention by a majority of the New York convention. His candidacy means no attack on any other candidate or group. The men urging it are profoundly convinced that he is eminently fit to be president. When he considers the trying times which undoubtedly will overtake the country during the next four years, We must come to the conclusion that we shall need in the presidential office all the wisdom, courage and strength which Mr. Root can bring to it. He is pre-eminently the man to nominate."

Those recovered are:

Mrs. W. T. Robinson, aged 46, Sterling, Ill.

Alvin Theon, 18, Kensey, Iowa.

Mrs. S. R. Wescott, wife of Rock Island engineer, Manley, Iowa.

Mr. Lapp, traveling man, North English, Iowa.

Ruth Kober, 19, Waterloo, Iowa.

Doris Kober, 16, Waterloo, Iowa.

Mrs. Flora VanVliet, 65, Traer, Iowa.

Mrs. Mary W. Gruwell, 45, Iowa City, Iowa.

An unidentifiable woman, age about 35, five feet tall, brown hair, turning grey, wore an opal and diamond ring, right thumb crippled, having been broken and improperly set.

The known missing are:

Mrs. Frances Christianson, Wessley, Iowa.

TO TAKE UP REPLY TO CARRANZA MONDAY

OFFICIALS ASSEMBLING DATA ON ALL POINTS RAISED

No Indication Is Given As to Form Answer Will Take—Results of Pershing-Gavira Conference Are Not Announced.

Washington, June 3.—President Wilson probably will take up with Secretary Lansing, Monday the question of framing a reply to General Carranza's new demand that the American troops be withdrawn.

Officials have obtained no indication yet as to the form the answer will take, further than it will not yield to the insistence that General Pershing's men retire, but they are assembling data on all of the points raised in the Mexican situation to have the information available for use as Mr. Wilson's desires are known.

Secretary Baker conferred with the president today on the Mexican situation but the facts were not made known.

The results of local conference yesterday between General Pershing and General Gavira were not announced.

Members of the general staff have not studied every phase Pershing's situation, with the result that they feel supreme confidence in his ability to defend himself against any attack which possibly could be made upon him.

Must Pick Strong Nominee

While a great many Republicans cannot join Governor Johnson of California in the belief that the time demands Roosevelt as the Republican nominee, they will concede that the Republican convention must use great care in the selection of a candidate if the campaign to be waged against President Wilson is successful. While the present administration has committed many serious errors in the four years to close a few months hence, it must be admitted that President Wilson has a great many elements of strength and certain points of his administration are unassassable.

Republicans may with good reason face the realities in the situation and realize that for success in November they must make nomination of a strong man who will receive the party's undivided strength. Unless such a nomination is made there's a good chance for the re-election of Mr. Wilson.

Teaching the Deaf to Sing

Teachers of the deaf will be interested in the claim of Mrs. Christian Born of Columbus that she has invented and discovered a new process of education by which the deaf may be taught to sing. Experiments have been made with Magdalena Sattler, an eighteen year old student at the Ohio State School for the Deaf. The system consists of a series of facial expressions accompanied by piano tones which the student cannot hear. The Cleveland girl has thus far mastered more than an octave of notes and a number of scientists who have looked into the case declare that the method is a success.

The fact heretofore accepted as such, which Mrs. Born has to disprove, is that the sense of hearing is essential to singing. Local persons familiar with educational methods for the deaf are not yet greatly impressed with the alleged new method, for their experience has been that even in learning to speak by the newer methods of education the deaf do not acquire normal voice control and this is because the control is regulated by the sense of hearing.

As Blythe Sees It.

Unless Samuel G. Blythe, of Saturday Evening Post fame, is mistaken—and he is not often, in political affairs—the game is only beginning in Chicago and it is anybody's fight for the Republican nomination. Mr. Blythe sees Hughes as the leading candidate with Roosevelt as a close second, and it is his belief, too, that the greatest number of political leaders do not want either of these

MORNING ON THE FARM.

Get up, my lad! The sun is rising, it is a most majestic day; Aurora's beauties are surprising, you should be glad to quit the hay. Get up, get up, the dew is gleaming, like priceless jewels on the grass, it is a sin to lie here dreaming, while morning's transient glories pass.

Get up, my son, the light is stealing athwart the summit of the hill, and I can hear the porters squawking for buckets of refreshing swill.

The oriole's already soaring, the mocking bird begins to mock, and you, O sluggish youth, are snoring, although it's nearly four o'clock! When I was young my sainted father ne'er bid me to rouse me from my bed; I thought it shame to cause such bother—I rose before the east was red. Before the wren began its carol, or catbird raised its solo line, I went and carried seven barrels of slop to feed the humpbacked swine.

I went about my labors singing, as I would see you do, my son; and when the breakfast bell was ringing, the morning chores were always done.

Get up, get up, the world is waking! The morn is grand, but soon it fades! And in three shakes I will be breaking this slate across your shoulderblades!

QUINCY BOARD OF EDUCATION EMPLOYS NEW SUPERINTENDENT

Salary Fixed at $3750 and Action is Approved by Papers—Seek High Class Work and to Keep Schools Out of Politics.

In Quincy the Board of Education has engaged as the superintendent of the city schools Charles M. Gill of the Teachers College of St. Louis at a salary of $3750. This is quite a large amount more than has been paid in the past and the board has therefore been subjected to considerable criticism. In explaining their action the board has quoted salaries paid in other cities showing that high class superintendents command good salaries.

There are some of the salaries paid: Springfield, $5,000; Rockford, $4,000; Peoria, $4,250; Decatur, $4,250; Blue Island, $3,600; Evanson District 75, $4,000; District 76, $3,750; Galesburg, $3,000; La Grange, $3,000; Oak Park, $3,500; West Aurora, $3,350; total of $6,700 for Aurora.

The Quincy Herald has endorsed the board's action in the following editorial:

"Let us try to get at the purpose of the Quincy board of education in electing Charles M. Gill of the Harris Teachers' College of St. Louis superintendent of Quincy's schools at a salary of $3,750. Let us try to see the meaning of it. Let us not judge until we realize this purpose and this meaning, and until this purpose and this meaning have been put to a thorough test in the practical administration of Quincy's schools.

"Without any idea as to who the next superintendent of schools in Quincy was to be and without suggestion from any member of the board of education, the Herald on May 5 editorially said:

"And now for the future. Surely a change must be with an idea of improvement. Realizing the nature of the task in Quincy, what are the qualifications which the new superintendent must have.

"He must be a school man thru and thru, willing to stand or fall by his convictions on school questions.

"He must realize that he should keep out of school politics entirely. In fact, any superintendent in the future who intimates to teachers how they should vote or who gets his school organization behind certain candidates should forfeit his place instantaneously.

"He must be a strength and encouragement to his teachers, a constructive critic, progressive but free from fads, one who understands the teachers' problems and can give intelligent help.

"He must be an executive of force and ability.

"Just how long such a school man will remain in Quincy the Herald does not know. He should have a life job here. Let us try to get such a man now and see how long we can keep him. At least let us have such a man no matter what may be the consequences."

"The members of the board were determined to eliminate politics from the city schools. The present baneful system was not, by the way, introduced by the present superintendent. He did not succeed, however, in stamping it out. The board said, by its action last night, that the school administration must keep its hands out of school politics. Charles M. Gill, who wouldn't turn his hand to get the Quincy superintendency, will not turn a hand to keep it. Service alone must be such a man's standard.

The board was determined to get a man as superintendent of schools whose scholarship was of the very highest, whose training as a teacher as any man might have, who knew the school business thoroughly. To get such a man the board had to pay a high salary, but it believed it found such a man in Mr. Gill. His credentials are of the very highest.

Let us do what we can to help the board of education to realize its ideal. Let us wait in our judgments on the wisdom of its plan. Let us see if it is not true that the board really is saving money and at least is giving us more for our money. Let us do what we can to help Mr. Gill use his experience and ability here to the best advantage. After this plan for the newer and better Quincy school system has been given a thorough test we may judge of its worth to Quincy. Then we can judge with knowledge and intelligence.

Note the prices. Curtains, washed and stretched or ironed, 35 cts a pair. Grand Laundry.

CAPT. SWALES TO CHICAGO

Capt. J. M. Swales will leave for Chicago today to spend the summer and fall months at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Freeman. When one remembers that Capt. Swales is seventy-six years old and that while serving in the Civil War he went thru the terrors of Andersonville prison, it is wonderful, indeed, that he is so well preserved in mind and body. The captain is undoubtedly growing old, but he is doing so gracefully and gives every indication that he will be spared for many more years to come.

ETIQUETTE OF THE GOLF LINKS IN DETAIL

Certain Simple Rules Laid Down and Their Observance Will Increase Pleasure of Players.

At the suggestion of a number of Jacksonville people who are especially interested in golf, the following nine points listed as "etiquette" for golf as adopted by the United States Golf association are printed. These points and rules if observed will add very greatly to the pleasure and comfort of those on the links:

1. No one should stand to or directly behind the ball, move, or talk, when a player is making a stroke. On the putting-green no one should stand beyond the hole in the line of a player's stroke.

2. The player who has the honor should be allowed to play before his opponent tees his ball.

3. No player should play from the tee until the party in front have played their second strokes and are out of range, nor play up to the putting-green till the party in front have holed out and moved away.

4. Players who have holed out should not try their puts over again when other players are following them.

5. Players looking for a lost ball should allow other matches coming up to pass them; they should signal to the players following them to pass, and having given such a signal, they should not continue their play until these players have passed and are out of reach.

6. Turf cut or displaced by a player should be at once replaced and pressed down with the foot.

7. A player should carefully fill up all holes made by himself in a bunker.

8. Players should see that their caddies do not injure the holes by standing close to them when the ground is soft.

9. A player who has incurred a penalty stroke should intimate the fact to his opponent as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Berryman of the Vandalia road have received word of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Golden Berryman, to Ralph von Thurn, which took place in Muskogee, Okla. Mr. von Thurn is a resident of Alma, Mich., but during the summer months has a position as supervisor of playground instruction at the eastern state normal school in Tableau, Okla.

The wedding service was read by Rev. Mr. Schiffer, pastor of the church, and the ceremony was witnessed by a few intimate friends only. Mr. and Mrs. von Thurn left the same day for Tableau. Miss Berryman is the possessor of many warm friends both in Jacksonville and in the Franklin vicinity, where she was reared. She is a graduate of Franklin high school and in 1913 was graduated from the Illinois Woman's college. Later she attended Northwestern university. Miss Berryman holds a successful high school position in Illinois, going last fall to Muskogee, where she took the position as instructor of history in the high school there. Miss Berryman met her future husband at Muskogee, where the latter held the place of director of athletics. Mr. von Thurn was reared in Michigan and is a graduate at Alma college and of Michigan state normal school at Ypsilanti, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. von Thurn will carry to their new home the best wishes of friends in large number. The groom is a young man of tried ability and of excellent repute as a teacher, and has great promise of success in his chosen profession.

Jordan-Price

Horace C. Jordan and Miss Emma Belle Price, both of this city, were married at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Rev. G. W. Flagg at Centenary parsonage. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Charles H. Harney, and while her home was originally in Mt. Sterling, she has been living in Jacksonville a number of years. Mr. Jordan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jordan of Webster avenue. He was for a long period an employee at the State School for the Blind and more recently has been engaged in farming. Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known in this community and will receive the hearty congratulations of their numerous friends. Mrs. J. A. Paschal, a sister of the groom, was one of the witnesses of the ceremony.

While the cost of gasoline increases the cost of electric current decreases

The Detroit Electric excels any other "all-year-round" type of car

Bear this in mind—you men and women who wonder which car is really best.

Many cars for many years have fought for users' favor. And Detroit Electrics are the victors in the "all-year-round" class. Today the Detroit Electric outsells any other "all-year-round car," either of gasoline or electric type, either of higher or lower price.

This verdict of buyers is not a snap judgment likely to be reversed. It comes after ten years of close comparison.

Detroit Electrics have a mileage capacity of 80 to 90 miles on a single charge. They have power a-plenty and more speed than there is really need for. They are both safe and simple to operate and they provide the height of motoring luxury and comfort at lower cost than any other high-quality "all-year-round" automobile.

The strong claims for Detroit Electric performance are easily proved by a practical road demonstration.

Remember—the Detroit Electric is a quality car at a moderate price

NEW DANISH LAWS TERMED MOST LIBERAL IN EUROPE

New Constitution is to Go Into Effect Monday—Danes Prepare for New Era of Government.

London, June 3.—Reports received here from Denmark confirm the earlier rumors that the new constitutional law adopted in that country will go into effect on Monday, and a general election under its provisions will be held in July. Premier Zahle announced last fall that the government intended to put the new constitution in force on June 5, 1916, waiving the right to propose a prolongation of the old constitution law owing to the war.

According to correspondents for the German and other continental papers, the Danes are preparing for a new era in government. It is declared the constitution which was unanimously passed by the Parliament a year ago, and promptly signed by King Christian, is by far the most democratic in Europe.

That this reform was accomplished in the midst of a world war in which the reactionary forces of every country are seeking by open and secret means to wipe out all progressive movements, was a surprise. The reason for this action is found in the fact that during the last three years the conservatives had presented no less than eleven amendments to the constitution, each more reactionary than the other, and had been overwhelmingly defeated on all of them. At last they saw the light, and realized that the day of political privileges in Denmark had gone forever. The party then made its twelfth proposal, which was at once recognized by the other parties as furnishing the foundation upon which it was possible to build.

It is conceded in Denmark that it was by no means the love of democratic reform, but simply the instinct of self preservation that compelled the conservatives to co-operate for constitutional reform.

The new constitution is hailed in Denmark as the opening up of new paths for the development of freedom. The fundamental fact that all political privileges which were formerly bound up with the ownership of land or capital have been abolished under the new law, and that universal and equal suffrage has been granted to all men and women 25 years and over in age, show the democratic character of the new constitution.

The lower house is to have a membership of not more than 140. It has 114 at present. The membership of the upper house is increased from 66 to 72. The life of the lower house has been extended to four years instead of three as before, and of the upper house to eight instead of six years. Hitherto the age limit for the lower house has been 30; it is now reduced to 25, making all voters eligible. For the upper house, the qualification age is left at 30, with the provision that it shall be reduced one year at each succeeding election until the age of 25 is reached.

Hitherto the upper house has had the control of dissolutions of parliament, and could thereby force the lower house to meet its will. Now under certain conditions, this power falls into control of the lower house thus transferring the center of government to the more popular body.

Twenty two seats in the lower house will be distributed among the various parties according to the votes which they obtained, but for which they did not secure representation in the majority elections. In this manner, a party which may not have sufficient votes in any one district to secure an election will be insured of representation in parliament. Parties having a very large majority in any one district may count their superfluous votes toward securing additional representation in the general ticket.

It is also provided that all election laws to the lower house may be amended at any election. This opens the road wide to any advance that may be desired in the future.

SERVICES AT ASBURY

The Rev. Mr. Van Fossen will have charge of the services at Asbury church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Van Fossen is superintendent of the Central District of the anti-saloon league.

BISHOP LEWIS AT GRACE CHURCH

Bishop Wilson S. Lewis, of Foochow, China, will deliver an address next Wednesday evening at Grace Methodist Episcopal church. The Bishop, who has been attending the general conference at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., has spent eight years in China; is a great Christian statesman and is thoroughly familiar with present conditions in the Far East. Twice while in this country Bishop Lewis spoke for Dr. Madden while the latter was superintendent of Champaign district, and always delighted his audience with his thrilling message on national and religious progress in the Orient. It will be a rare opportunity for the citizens of Jacksonville to hear Bishop Lewis next Wednesday evening at Grace church.

MINISTERS' MEETING

The closing meeting of the Ministerial Union will be held Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The topic will be "The Greatest Thing in My Ministry." Revs. Rule, Seruggs and Pontius will respond to the subject as to the revelation of truth, and Revs. Madden, Langton, and Landis, as to the application of truth, while Dr. Morey will close the symposium with incidents of appreciation and experience. Visiting clergymen cordially invited.

GREAT INTEREST CENTERS AROUND CHICAGO AUTO DERBY

Thirty Nine Cars on List That Will Line up for Elimination Trials.

Chicago, Ill., June 3.—A record breaking entry list has been announced for the running of the Second Annual International Auto Derby at Chicago on June 19, thirty nine cars being on the list that will line up for elimination trials on June 6, 7, 8. In view of the fact that the entry list does not close for twenty-four hours leads the local speedway officials to believe that there will be more than forty five on the final roster. This is double the number that started at Indianapolis.

Those already on the list include all of the great drivers of the present day with the exception of two or three foreign pilots who have joined their commands in the war zones. That the local race will be the greatest ever run is the opinion of the experts in looking over such names as Dario Resta, Ralph De Palma, Eddie O'Donnell, Barney Oldfield, Ira Vail, Aldo Franchi, L. Chevrolet, Eddie Rickenbacher, Pete Henderson, Gil Anderson, Howdy Wilcox, Ralph K. Mulford, Billy Chandler, Josef Christaens, Johnny Aitken and Tom Alley.

Never before in the history of auto racing has such a field been announced for one race as have for the 300 mile Chicago affair and in view of the fact that the tamarack track here is the fastest in the world it is expected that last year's records made when Dario Resta flashed across the line after breaking all previous marks up to 500 miles will be shattered. Resta was not pushed in his last 250 miles last season.

Only thirty-three cars will qualify for the event, which is now looked upon as the premier racing classic of the world. In order to qualify her thirty-three must do better than ninety miles per hour. The quality rounds will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Most of the drivers have arrived in Chicago and are tuning up their cars. The entrants, drivers and car follows:

SOUTHERN MAYORS MEET FOR DEFENSE

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 2—One of the most important meeting in the interests of greater national defense is the conference of Mayors of American cities, which opens here today. Mayor Jesse R. Littleton of Chattanooga called the conference, at the suggestion of mayors who attended the recent conference in St. Louis. Many cities in the south are represented, and some prominent northern mayors are also here. It is expected that the conference will give expression to the real feeling of the people of the south and south.

SEALS WILL PLAY TODAY

The Schaefer Seals of Springfield will be the opponents of the Jacksonville Merchants at Nichols park this afternoon. The locals have been going good and the seals are said to have a strong lineup and a good contest is looked for. The lineup follows:

Jacksonville—Denny Ob, Fernandes ss, DeFrates 3b, Clark c, Stewart cf, McCollister 1b, Christopher lf, Woodman, Cannon, rt, White p, Devonport, p, Chrisman utility.

Schaefer Seals—Ford c, Ferrell p, Heads ss, McCue 1b, Goldsmith 2b, Dunham 3b, Lumiden lf, Young ct, Reek rf, Kane sub.

AUTOMOBILE ISSUES HOLD
ALMOST ABSOLUTE SWAY

Future Feyish Bidding up of Special Stocks Serve to Distract Attention from Latest Advices Regarding Sea Battle.

New York, June 3.—Future Feyish bidding up of special stocks served to distract the attention of traders in today's brief market from latest advices regarding the great marine battle off the coast of Denmark. Automobile issues held almost absolute sway, with some gains of sensational proportions and consequent new maximums. The logical inference to be drawn from this movement apparently is that events of importance and advantage to holders of these issues are in the making.

New records scored today included Willys-Overland common which rose 20 points to 314, with three of the preferred to 111 1/2 and Chandler motor up 11% to 121 1/2 while general motors made the extraordinary gain of 87 points to 549, within easy distance of its high record.

Sugars and shipping shares trailed along with the motor group. Rails and international issues as a whole were sentimentally affected by the news from abroad. Prominent industrials and war issues figured unimportantly in the day's one-sided operations. Total sales of stock amounted to 270,000 shares.

Additional gold was received from Canada swelling the total from that source of almost $30,000,000 and $1,000,000 gold was shipped to Cuba in payment of commercial obligations.

Soil Surveys.
A number of Morgan county farmers and land owners are hoping that at some date not far distant the soil experts of the state will make a soil survey of this county. Such surveys have been made in quite a number of Illinois counties and the work is soon to begin in Mercer. When a survey is taken soil in every forty acres in a county is sampled and analyzed and maps are made to show the condition.

It is quite a task to make such a survey in the average county and in Mercer county it is estimated that four men will be in the field for a period of from six to eight months.

An Engine for Every Woman
If we are to realize higher perfection of home life upon the farm, it is highly essential to turn our attention to the gas engine and its domestic uses.

It is self evident that one's time is growing in value and that the intensity of purposes to which time shall be used must be increased.

With the use of the gas engine there is not only a saving of time and money, but with this equipment the country home may possess the luxuries of the city dwelling, namely, water supply, light and laundry.

The water supply can be made to furnish running hot and cold water for kitchen, bath and laundry, a means of efficient sewage disposal, and fire protection.

The gas engine driven electric lighting systems for country use have passed the experimental stage and now rival the efficiency and economy of the home lighting systems.

In the laundry the gas engine makes it possible to reduce the amount of exposure and drudgery of wash day. Besides furnishing water for the washing, the various machines may be conveniently operated by the power of the engine.

Where there is not milkhouse separate from the home, this engine can be made to operate both churn and separator in connection with any one of the above operations.

In choosing an engine for these purposes, nothing less than a two horse power engine should be selected. Usually it is more advisable to secure an engine larger than your present needs require.

SPECIAL ALFALFA WEEK
A special alfalfa week has been planned by Farm Adviser Rusch of Adams county in an effort to awaken special interest in alfalfa as a forage and hay crop. Dr. W. L. Burdison, professor of farm crops of the University of Illinois, an authority on alfalfa, is to lecture at each of the twenty-three meetings which will be held beginning Monday afternoon and closing Saturday afternoon. Adviser Rusch declared that there should be alfalfa or sweet clover on every farm in Adams county and he has adopted the special meeting plan in an effort to accomplish this.

VISITORS FROM KANSAS CITY
Frank Porawski of Kansas City is visiting his sisters, Mrs. George Moore, 645 East State street, and Mrs. Charles Cowdin of Joy Prairie, who came in to meet him as he expects to return today. He is president of the trustee board of the German hospital in the western metropolis of Missouri and gives a glowing account of its work. They are now putting up a $350,000 addition and one man, William Welker, gave $30,000 for a laboratory which will be added. Jacksonville could use a few such men to excellent advantage and they would be very welcome.

HAY WANTED AT STATE HOSPITAL
We are in the market for 125 tons of number one alfalfa or clover hay in bales.

What is Home Without an Heir!

And With This Thought Is the Knowledge of a Splendid Help to Expectant Mothers

This is a subject that has a place in all minds in all times. And it naturally directs thoughts to the mother during that wonderful period of expectancy. Mothers who know recommend "Mother's Friend." It is an external remedy for the stretching muscles, enables them to expand without undue strain, assists the organs to contract again, nerves, to pull at ligaments to thus avoid pain.

This is an interesting and valuable thing to remember. The skin is but a net work of very small blood vessels and connective tissue and by keeping it well lubricated, then applying "Mother's Friend" will not get soft. And when the tissue has relaxed it will return to its natural shape without the seams and scars that are so liable to be the case if "Mother's Friend" is not used.

Get a bottle of this invaluable aid to expectant mothers. Any druggist will supply you. It is harmless but wonderfully effective.

Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 812 Lincoln Avenue, Oak Park, Ill. for a ten page guide book for women interested in the subject of maternity. It will prove an inspiration. It contains information that every woman should know all about. Write today.

The trouble is that the waiting list is developing more rapidly than the agencies. Whole villages and whole counties are turning en masse to Christianity. The mayors of two hundred villages recently voted in conference to use their influence to make the entire population of their villages Christian. The Christian community in India is increasing at the rate of 5000 new members every month or 60,000 per year.

DENVER RETURNED TO OLD FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Commission Form Abandoned After Three Years' Trial—Personalities Confused With Issue.

At a special election on May 9th, Denver, the fifth largest city in the country, to adopt the commission plan, abandoned the system after a three years' trial and adopted the "mayor" form.

Several months ago the Denver Charter League, which had been investigating the administration, resolved to submit a charter amendment for a reversion to the mayor plan. When their efforts took a serious turn, the city hall employees, among whom the influence of former mayor Robert W. Speer was strong, decided not to oppose the League directly, but to submit a second proposition for a similar plan which would automatically elect Speer as the first mayor. Later, a third amendment was put out by the Republicans, naming W. W. Booth. These are the unofficial figures: the Speer amendment was carried by a vote of 30,882 to 22,178; the Booth amendment was lost by 44,254; the original amendment naming no candidates was lost by 45,427 to 6,514.

It is clear, therefore, that the issue in the election was not the simple, clear-cut one of commission government vs. the mayor plan, but it was wrapped up in the much more personal question as to whether or not Mr. Speer should or should not be returned to power. The amendment was what is referred to in New York political circles as a "ripper" measure.

A word about the new mayor will throw some light on the situation. He is a familiar figure in Denver politics and in many ways he seems to be a man very much after that which he has been called to serve. During his previous administration when ministerial delegations informed him of the prevalence of gambling and other forms of vice, he is said to have cheerfully admitted the facts, informed his visitors that he was mayor and quite willing to shoulder the responsibility for his official acts, and let it go at that. Thus his initiative the city entered upon the building of boulevards and other big public works. A large municipal auditorium was built and free music dispensed. Thereby Mr. Speer acquired a reputation for resourcefulness and force. The people of Denver returned Mr. Speer to office with a full knowledge of what they were doing.

The recent election was apparently the reaction that is anticipated in most commission government laws by a provision that a period of from four to six years must elapse before a vote on reversion to the old system may be had. Under such conditions no city has ever "gone back."

The first administration had to deal with the usual heritage of politics from the old government and a patchwork charter. It did not work the instant regeneration that many people expected.

That there were sound reasons for the abandonment of the old charter is not to be denied. The weaknesses inherent in the commission plan which have been frequently pointed out by political scientists, revealed themselves in Denver. The lack of a strong executive to keep the commissioners working in harmony seems to have been evident, for the Denver Times said, "There has been enough lost motion, beginning with Mayor Arnold and continuing thru the present headless administration. . . . The return of Mr. Speer may mean 'one-man' power, but that is better than no-man power." The commission manager plan, which would have unified the administrative departments, was suggested as the way out, but apparently the city was in no mood to enter upon what it chose to consider an experiment.

Under the new charter the powers of the mayor are enormous. Among them are included that of selecting the heads of all departments of the city and county and of removing any civil service employee without a hearing. The council will be composed of nine members elected by districts, but in the first instance, till the next election, the mayor himself will appoint four and the remaining five councilmen will consist of one member elected by each of the five following bodies: The Denver Real Estate Exchange, the Rotary Club, the Manufacturers' Association and the Denver Civic Association. To what extent the prospect of having a direct representative in the council influenced the membership of these organizations to vote for Speer is of course problematical.

H. S. Gilbertson.

LAUNCH MOVEMENT TO ENLIST MEN IN ENLARGED ARMY AND NAVY

CHICAGO, June 2.—A national movement, having its purpose the enlistment of men in the enlarged army and navy, was launched here tonight at a meeting of United Spanish war veterans attended by representatives of more than fifty camps of the organization.

The speakers included Congressman L. C. Dyer, National commander, of St. Louis; United States Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts; Brigadier General James A. Stewart; Major H. J. Purinton, past president of the commanders' association; Captain B. J. Baumer and past department commander, C. L. Daniels, all of Chicago; and M. J. Donahue, department commander of Illinois; Streater, and Adjutant General Martin Sipple.

Rev. W. E. Spoons has been invited to address the Odd Fellows of Arcadia in the cemetery M. P. church at Arcadia at 2:30 p. m. today and expects to be present. A number from this city also expect to be present.

Puzzle of the Arctic Tern.

Ornithologists have finally awarded first place as migrator to the arctic tern. Recent investigations have proved beyond all question that this bird of mystery makes a flight every year totaling 22,000 miles. It is on the wing literally twenty weeks out of the fifty-two, with a daily average flight of approximately 150 miles. When it is winter in the northern hemisphere the tern is feeding at the edge of the antarctic circle, far south of Cape Horn. When spring banishes winter it returns to the arctic, 11,000 miles away from its winter quarters, to build its nest in the arctic regions. Almost with mathematical precision the tern arrives in the north every year on June 15 and on Aug. 25 begins its long southern flight. Curiously enough, reports of the birds seen en route are exceedingly rare. One or two have been seen in the last three or four years along the Long Island shore, but beyond this clew to the course they pursue nothing at all is known of the route they follow.—Philadelphia Record.

A Painter's Troubles.

The desire of the Bank of England officials to discover forgers has sometimes led to curious mistakes. On one occasion the painter, George Morland, in his eagerness to avoid his duns, retired to an obscure hiding place in Hackney, where his anxious toils and secluded manner of life induced some of his neighbors to believe him a forger of notes then in existence. The directors, on being informed, dispatched some dexterous detectives to the residence, but Morland's suspicions were aroused by their movements in front of the house and, thinking them bullfrogs, escaped from the back to London. Mrs. Morland informed the visitors of her husband's name and showed them some unfinished pictures. The facts were reported to the directors, who presented Morland with two twenty-pound notes by way of compensation for the alarm.

The Making of a Word.

Few new words can have been brought into the world with so much formality as "telegram," which, like many other words, was coined in America. On April 27, 1852, the Daily American Telegraph published an editorial note: "Telegraph means to write from a distance; telegram, the writing itself executed from a distance; monogram, logogram, etc., are words formed upon the same analogy and in good acceptance. Hence 'telegram' is the appropriate heading of a telegraphic dispatch. Well, we'll go it!" When the word crossed the Atlantic and the Times displaced the heading "News by Electric Telegraph" for "Telegrams" a heated discussion arose as to its admissibility. This reached such a pitch that a pamphlet was published entitled "The Telegraph and Telepheme Controversy."—London Mirror.

The Jellyfish.

The bay of Naples abounds in medusae, or jellyfish, often growing as large as two feet in diameter and weighing fifty and sixty pounds. Some of them shine at night with a greenish light and are known as noctiluca (night lanterns) by the natives. The jellyfish sometimes make migrations in great groups, sometimes so large and so thick as to impede the navigation of vessels, like the floating plants in the Sargasso sea of the tropics. These shoals of medusae, as they are called, may be so dense that a piece of timber plunged in among them will be held upright as if stuck in the mud, and ordinary rowboats cannot force their way through them. Their migrations have never been explained. They are irregular and occur at no particular season of the year and under no particular influences.

Maker of Dictionaries Not Envied.
Can any one envy the maker of dictionaries? To Sir James Murray the readers were drawn in, those who were to garner words. Some hundred thousand "words" were examined by a staff of assistants with two eyes and a bit of brain, and they may have got the spelling right. But think of the task of the searcher, going through the books he loves in the search for a word! And missing all else. For the man with the demand upon him would read the Bible with one eye for misprints. No such torture for the lover of literature could be devised like the making of a dictionary.—London Chronicle.

Just Suited.
"Why do you go with that young man? He isn't making enough money to be married."

"But he is making enough money to provide theater seats and auto rides for Tuesdays and Fridays, and I have those evenings to spare."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Rubbing It In.

He—if you find me so lacking in the qualities you admire, why on earth did you ever marry me? She—There you go making things worse. You know very well I dislike particularly being asked questions that admit of no reasonable answer.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Premonitory.

Junior—So you didn't propose to her, after all? Weed—No. And I'm not going to. When I got to her house I found her chasing a mouse with a broom.—Puck.

Horseshoe.

Joax—Poor old Henpeck has to mind the baby. Joax—Yes. It's wonderful how that baby takes after its mother.—Philadelphia Record.

Bad men excuse their faults; good men leave them.—Johnson.

TODAY.

June 4.

Brig. Gen. Robert G. E. Leckie, commander of a Canadian division in France, who was wounded last February, by a stray bullet while inspecting his lines, is 47 years old today. General Leckie is a prominent Canadian sportsman, has travelled in all parts of the world, and is also an engineer of note. He headed an expedition into British Somaliland on east coast of Africa during the Mad Mullah War, exploring and hunting big game. His military career began with the New Brunswick Hussars. When the Boer War broke out, he was in the Canadian Northwest developing mines. He commanded a squadron of the Canadian Mounted Rifles that served in South Africa, and was decorated for his services. On his return and was made commander, with rank of Lieutenant Colonel. When the present European conflict broke out, he was one of the first to offer his services. He has been made a Brigadier General for distinguished service. General Leckie was born in Halifax on June 4, 1869. He was educated at the Royal Military College at Kingston and at King's College in Nova Scotia. His engineering projects included the development of coal mines in New Brunswick and the opening up of big mines in British Columbia and the State of Washington. He has written on travel and hunting, and is a member of the engineering societies of America.

The Failures and Successes of Seventy Storied Years Subject of Excellent Dramatic Work on Part of Students—Miss Helen DeWitt
Crowned Queen of the May.

Students of Illinois Woman's college joined Saturday afternoon in the presentation of a pageant which will long be remembered for its breadth of conception, skillful composition and excellent dramatic and musical art. The subject was the growth of the college and in no better manner could the story of seventy eventful years have been set forth for the hundreds who gathered on the college campus to see Illinois Woman's College history pictured thus in dance and song.

A natural stage of great beauty had been constructed, inclosing an artificial amphitheatre upon which the audience assembled. At the first of the pageant the Guiding Spirit of Womanhood announced the manner of selecting the Queen of the May from the eight village maidens.

To each was thrown a flower and the one containing the fated token was received by Miss Helen DeWitt, who then a peculiar coincidence was recently selected president of the college student body. Miss Helen McGhee, chosen thus as last year's queen, was serving in the same capacity. With the queen chosen there followed a pretty English May pole song, and the pageant of the seventy years began with the entry of the Spirit of the Founders and the Class of 1852, clad in cap and gown of blue.

Gowns of red and gray were worn by those who depicted the reign of fire and destruction, telling the story of the saddened years when all seemed lost.

With the appearance of the builders the Spirit of the Founders was revived, the academic procession was continued. The Spirit of Progress and Prosperity took possession and the pageant was brought to fitting close by singing of "The Beloved College of Women", whose words composed by a student of the college, never fail to touch the deepest chord.

For success of the pageant too much credit can not be given Miss Louise G. Robinson, who had in charge the training and whose untiring industry and sympathetic oversight was not for one moment relaxed. Miss Rena M. Lazelle had in direct charge the music and well was her careful work justified by the commendable part taken by the chorus.

A pleasing feature of the pageant was the orchestration, selected with taste and discrimination and well played by Misses Edith Brown, Eloise Capps, Beulah Smith and Charlotte Hungate. In "Faith Handel's Largo was used; for Fire an appropriate movement of great swiftness; for Despair, a doleful measure by Greig; in "The Builders" Greig's minuet and for the Cornucopia, music of Loin DuVall. Greek maidens did the ball drill to fitting strains and a phantasy was employed when there appeared "The Spirit of the Future." The recitation was in large part written by students of the college, under the guidance of professors and friends of the school.

ASSOCIATED PRESS
CORRESPONDENCE

Faraborough, Hampshire, England, June 4—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—When Empress Eugenie of France recently celebrated her ninetieth birthday at the residence where she passes her exile from her native country she bade fair to fulfill a prophecy made by a gipsy woman in Madrid in 1839—that she would live somewhere about a hundred years. She enjoys remarkable health and is able to get about the house, altho suffering somewhat from lameness for many years. Every day she is taken out in a bath chair to enjoy the open air, of which she is extremely fond.

The Empress often entertains visitors, mostly relatives, and with her on her birthday were Prince Victor Napoleon and Princess Clementine and their family. In one wing of her house she has had apartments fitted up for a number of wounded British officers, and she paid a visit to them on the day of her anniversary, and spoke to them of their various experiences at the front, for she exhibits keen interest in the war. On several occasions she has invited small parties of the less severely wounded among them to dinner, and their presence at her table appears to have had remarkable effect on her spirit.

The story of the gipsy's prophecy is told in connection with a slight accident which occurred to the Little Spanish princess when she was only thirteen. She was a girl of very high spirit and one day when romping slid down the stair bannister so fast that she dashed her head against a projection and fell unconscious. A gipsy woman who was passing the doorway entered and assisted in restoring the princess, whose mother was bewailing the accident.

"There is no danger," said the gipsy. "The little lady will live to about a hundred. She was born under the open sky on the night of a battle. She will be a queen."

As a matter of fact, whether the gipsy knew it or not, the girl who was to become Empress of France was born at Granada in a tent in the palace garden, where her mother had taken refuge during an earthquake.

The princess herself was rather superstitious and when she was affianced to the Emporer, Napoleon III, she was found one day by her mother in the act of working out a symbol of letters and figures, which on investigation turned out to be her own name Eugenie with the initials of her future husband, Louis Napoleon Bonaparte, added. She added together the numbers of the letters in accordance with their order in the alphabet, which gave the following result: E-5, U-21, G-7, E-5, N-14, I-9, E-5, L-12, N-14, and B-2, equaling 94.

Ever afterwards she asserted she would live to that age.

The Hague, Netherlands, June 3.—The first American ensilage tower in Holland, which was erected last year on the Johannaehoeve farm at Oosterbeek by the Institute for Agricultural Implements, has given much good results that two other towers are now built on the same farm, which will provide sufficient ensilage maize to keep the entire farm stock during next winter.

The head of the Johannaehoeve project asserts that the American method is preferable to that hitherto in use here. An excellent fodder for all kinds of animals is thus produced, he says, while the losses by fermentation are considerably less. He comes to the conclusion that as many as 44 cows can be maintained on 37 acres by the new method, and that with exclusive stable feeding they might be even maintained on about 22 1/2 acres, only an albuminous fodder needing to be added in the winter.

Berlin, June 3.—The authorities, in conjunction with the customs officials, have established a "gramophone record testing headquarters," in Berlin. Each and every record that is to be sent outside of Germany must be "run off" at this place before it will be permitted to pass the border. It is presumed that the measure has been taken to make sure that spies shall not, by the unique methods of records, get valuable information across the line.

RECITALS BY CANDIDATES FOR TEACHER'S CERTIFICATES

Program of Merit Given by Pupils of the Illinois Woman's College in Music Hall Last Night.

A program of unusual merit was given by three candidates for the teacher's certificate of the College of Music of the Woman's College Saturday night. They were Miss Ermel Kimbel, voice, of the class of Miss Lazelle; Miss Kathleen Stice, piano, of the class of Mr. Stearns, and Miss Mary Violett, voice, of the class of Mrs. Hartmann. The musicians were favored by the presence of a large audience, that showed appreciation for the work done by the students.

The program opened with the beautiful Italian Aria of Puccini, "Vissi D' Arte" from La Tosca, in which Miss Kimbel found ample opportunity to show the compass and quality of her voice. This was followed by two German selections "Ich Liebe Dich" by Greig and "Die Lorelei" by Liszt. For her English group she sang "Live in Springtime" by Arditi, "Slave Song" by del Riego and "Wind and Lyre" by Ware. Miss Kimbel entered into the spirit of her selections with good musical understanding and her interpretations were especially pleasing. She possesses a voice of splendid compass, under excellent control and with an abundance of temperament so essential to portray the meaning which the authors intended. Miss Kimbel is the instructor of voice at the State School for the Blind, and recently she passed with the highest mark in the examination held at Springfield for musicians in the civil service test. She expects to leave this coming week for Chicago, where she will study voice under the celebrated singer, Charles Clark.

Miss Stice, who receives a certificate in piano this year, appeared to good advantage four times on the program, her closing number being the Concerto in G. Minor, first movement by Mendelssohn, with orchestral parts on second piano by Mr. Stearns. Her first number was Greig's beautiful composition "Auf den Bergen." Especially did she delight the audience with her selection from Mac Dowell. She plays with marked style, interprets well, and displays a sure attack. Her legato work contributed much to her successful appearance of the evening and her last number was a fitting climax to her efforts.

Miss Violett possesses a full soprano voice of lovely quality and fine breath control. She has poise and gets into the content of her songs with excellent interpretation, her pianissimo work being of a beautiful character. "Her Elsa's Dream" from Lohengrin was exalting and regal and in the "Verborgeneit" by Wolf, great pathos and fine crescendos were manifested. Her French group was exquisite in tone coloring and lovely quality, closing with the broad Aria from Aida by Verdi, making a wonderful contrast to her three preceding numbers. All her English selections were American songs with the exception of the "Kandahar." The Mac Dowell numbers so dainty and pastoral appealed to the audience making a rugged contrast to "The Sweet 'O the Year" by Mary Turner Salter. "The Nightingale Has a Lyre or Gold" was especially well interpreted. Miss Violett also expects to study with Mr. Clark in September.

The accompanists of the evening were Miss Deane Obermeyer and Miss Grace Wood. Their work was effective and gave merited support to the singers. The college is to be congratulated upon the musicianship exhibited last night.

The program as printed in Saturday's Journal was carried out.

WILL GO TO CHICAGO
Capt. J. M. Swales who has been spending the winter in Jacksonville will leave today for Chicago. Capt. Swales expects to take in the Republican convention in Chicago, and will then remain for the summer with his daughter, Mrs. John L. Freeman.

RAIN INTERFERES WITH WORK

Thomas Hembrough, who was one of the visitors in Jacksonville Saturday, said that there had not been as much rain in the Asbury neighborhood the past two weeks as in that portion of the county north of Jacksonville. As a result, farm work has been interfered with there less, but even so, there are some cornfields greatly in need of cultivation. Some of these fields have been so wet that the farmers could not get into them and as the result, the weeds are getting a good start. Asked if he was feeding any cattle this summer, Mr. Hembrough replied that he was not, but later on mentioned that he had sixty head of "mixed" stuff on pasture. He usually keeps quite a number of cows and heifers on his farm, altho he does not have a large amount of pasture. He raises some of the cattle that he feeds and buys others in the neighborhood, and it usually happens that the visitor to his farm will find fifty or sixty cattle of one kind or another.

Won Promotion in the Business World.

F. L. Sharpe received a telegram Saturday announcing the death of his nephew, W. K. Sharpe in Boston, Mass., Friday morning at 4:30 o'clock. Deceased was the son of Joseph K. Sharpe of Quincy, and was born and reared in this city. He was familiarly known when here as "Babe" and attended the public schools of the city. When 17 years of age he went to Chicago where he secured a position with the Corn Products company. By strict attention to business he won promotion rapidly and for several years has been manager of the New England states for the company with headquarters in Boston. Mr. Sharpe was 34 years of age at the time of death.

He was married to a Boston girl who survives him. He is also survived by his father, Joseph K. Sharpe, of Quincy, and two sisters, Mrs. W. J. Gorman of Chicago and Mrs. F. L. Anderagg of Fairbault, Minn. Funeral arrangements are not known but the services probably will be held and interment made in Boston.

WILL EXTEND SEWER
At intervals for several years past there has been trouble with the South Sandy street sewer, occasioned partly by the fact that tar from the plant gets into the sewer and clogs it. The matter had been reported to the city council several times by Commissioner Cox and yesterday all the council members examined the property and decided upon an extension of the sewer from a point near Anna street south across the property of the railway and light company to the brook. It will be constructed with a large manhole or cistern at one point, which, it is believed, will take care of the tar and the railway and light company will co-operate in the construction work.

AT STATE STREET TODAY
As previously announced, Rev. Lynn Hurie of Russen, A.R.E., will be in Jacksonville today to occupy the pulpit of State Street Presbyterian church. He is on his way home after attending the Presbyterian general assembly at Atlantic City. Rev. Mr. Hurie graduated from Illinois college a few years since and is very pleasantly remembered by many Jacksonville people.

BLYTHE TO COVER THE BIG CONVENTION

FAMOUS POLITICAL WRITER WILL SEND DAILY REPORTS TO JOURNAL.

His Reviews and Prophecies of the Great Republican Gathering together with Associated Press Reporters will furnish Comprehensive Convention Story.

The Journal has been fortunate in a special arrangement with the Central News Bureau whereby Samuel G. Blythe's report of the Republican national convention will appear from day to day. Samuel G. Blythe is possibly better known than any other political writer in the United States, as his articles continually appear in the Saturday Evening Post and are thus brought to the attention of millions of readers each week.

Mr. Blythe has been studying and recording political affairs in the United States for the past twenty-seven years and no man in public life is better informed about political or governmental affairs. Blythe writes from his knowledge of men and of parties and he has thru the years contrived to keep in close touch with political conditions in all parts of the United States. The fault with many political writers is that their opinions are shaped too much by sentiment in the particular community in which they happen to live. Blythe, of course, knows more facts about conditions in Washington and in the east in general than he does about the central west or the coast, but nevertheless, he takes into account conditions everywhere in ers each week.

his conclusions. So his statements and prophesies come with a vast degree of force. He has a pungent, epigrammatic style which is all his own.

Journal readers will certainly greatly enjoy his convention stories as they appear each morning. The first Blythe contribution is on the first page today.

The Blythe service has been secured simply as a special feature in connection with the complete Associated Press reports of the convention which will come over the Journal's leased wire. The Associated Press has assigned a large corps of trained men for the convention work.

ACCEPT PAVING ON SOUTH MAIN STREET

A meeting of the board of local improvements was held Saturday morning and the tarvia pavement on South Main street, from Morton avenue to Michigan avenue, was accepted. This action was taken after all the members of the board had made a personal inspection of the paving. On account of some of the work being done in cold weather last fall, the paving was defective in a number of places. Under the supervision of Mr. Lonergan all this paving was removed and the whole is now in first class condition and the members of the board believe that tarvia can be accounted an excellent paving material.

Let The Aladdin Factory Demonstrator Teach You

A Lesson In Kitchen Economy

A factory representative (an expert in Domestic Science) will be on hand to help you every day this week. Take your cooking troubles to her and she'll not only solve them, but help you to get results. Stop in when you're down town—it will more than pay you.

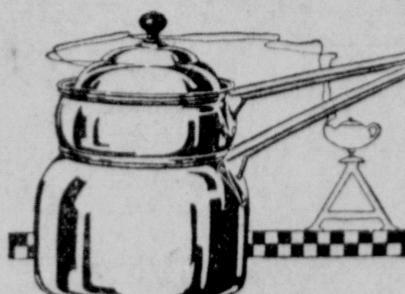

Buying the best food cheaply isn't the only way to practice economy in the kitchen. The right utensil is just as important as the right roast. But you don't buy cooking utensils every day—they must last a lifetime. That's why we recommend Aladdin Aluminum. Let us call your attention to a few details.

The weakest spot in most Sauce Pans is the handle. In Aladdin ware it is perhaps the strongest. Then, too the handles fit the hand—no sharp corners. Big triangular base—rivets wide apart—50 percent stronger than any other handle—easy to lift. There are no places for dirt or food to lodge, for there are no crevices or sharp angles—everything is smooth, with rounded corners—comes in a variety of sizes.

Aladdin Double Boiler

This has a sanitary cover with a liberal seat—it won't shake off. Note the big water compartment—less filling and washing necessary—and the two handles, close together, make it easy to lift it all with one hand. This is a mighty fine thing in which to prepare morning cereal, for it prevents scorching or burning.

There's An Aladdin Utensil For Every Need

Besides the pieces we have described above, there are Tea and Coffee Pots that have German silver hinges—rustless, neat and strong—no wobbly covers. No solder, but aluminum welding—doesn't tarnish or come loose. Then, too you can make a first-rate double boiler with an Aladdin Tea Kettle, and an Aladdin Insert—two utensils in one—one cover does for both. You'll also find a large assortment of sizes in Berlin Kettles—straight or swelled shapes. You can't help liking them. There's also a strong, serviceable Aladdin Fry Pan that, with half decent care, will last a lifetime. "Aladdin" is easily the finest aluminum on the market.

During the demonstration a 4 1/2 qt. Berlin kettle and cover, like cut, regular $1.65 value will be sold for 98c. Come early,
